

Advertisement for Sirius Satellite Radio: $5/MONTH FOR THREE MONTHS IN YOUR CAR. REACTIVATE NOW!

- News
Today's news
Metro & Tri-State
Nation
World
Blogs
Chicagopedia
Commentary
Chicago Crime
Editorials
Education
Lottery
Obituaries
Politics
Religion
Weather
Special Sections
Chats
City Hall
Your Block
Transportation
Columnists
Mark Brown
Cathleen Falsani
Stella Foster
Jack Higgins
Steve Huntley
Jesse Jackson
Carol Marin
Rich Miller
Mary Mitchell
Suzanne Ontiveros
Other Views
Richard Roeper
Michael Sneed
Heil Steinberg
Lynn Sweet
Don Terry
Laura Washington
The Watchdogs
The Fixer

NEWS ::

The views expressed in these blog posts are those of the author and not of the Chicago Sun-Times.

Acai Berry - What Do We Know?

Friday, April 17, 2009

Acai berry has recently been featured on many high-profile talk shows, and a quick Google search returns multiple websites promoting some form of it.

What is Acai Berry?

Not many fruits have as alluring a name as Acai berry. Acai (pronounced ah-sah-EE) berry is the fruit of the Acai palm, one of many species of palms belonging to the genus Euterpe, which is native to Central and South America.

What Acai Berry Research Shows

Several studies have been done on the antioxidant activity of the juice or fruit pulp (including a freeze-dried form of supplement). Generally, they agree that Acai berry exhibits some antioxidant activity but, depending on the methods used to define "antioxidant activity," the conclusions about the Acai berry's specific potency vary.

A couple of studies in the same journal fed Acai berry juice to 12 healthy volunteers and documented higher levels of antioxidants in the blood for up to two hours after consumption, but again, there is no clear health benefit that can be drawn from this observation.

The Bottom Line

Like many other fruits, Acai berry contains antioxidants. There is currently no clear evidence of any superiority in the action of Acai berry's antioxidants when compared to other types of fruits.

Read more from this blogger

The views expressed in these blog posts are those of the author and not of the Chicago Sun-Times.

Jobs Homes Cars Classifieds Place an Ad Degrees Pets Area of Interest: Please select Class location: Online Campus Your level of education: Please select Zip Code: Find a Degree Now Search Chicago Degrees

ARLINGTON CLICK HERE TO BUY TICKETS

- Top Jobs
LPN & CAREGIVERS- Vernon Hills, IL
Preschool Assistant Teacher- Clarendon Hills, IL
System Analyst- Schaumburg, IL
ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT- Glenview, IL
Warehouse & Delivery- Chicago, IL
DRIVER- Chicago, IL
Multiple Positions- Batavia, IL
Senior Consultants- Woodridge, IL
STATISTICAL ANALYSTS- Chicago, IL
Clerical- Bannockburn, IL
Certified Medical Assistant- Chicago, IL
Sales and Assistant Managers- Chicago, IL
Account Executives & Branch Manager- Chicago, IL
Drivers- Valparaiso, IN
Account Representatives- Elgin, IL
View all

SUN-TIMES BLOGS ::

- BACKTALK
Long live snail mail (8/05/2009 5:06:03 PM)
CONQUERING CANCER AND HEART FAILURE
HERE COMES MY MOST SERIOUS SURGERY YET. HELP ME LORD JESUS. (7/22/2009 5:31:11 AM)
LYNN SWEET
Obama says "we've rescued our economy from catastrophe" (8/07/2009 1:09:55 PM)
CAROL MARIN
I was dead wrong about CDC and HIRA (8/07/2009 6:44:50 AM)
THE RIDE
The Ride Trivia Quiz (8/03/2009 5:43:13 AM)

Ads by pulse360
Acai Berry Side Effects
2009's Top Hair Products
GEICO Car Insurance

TOP STORIES ::

- NEWS
Gov signs law to stop texting
SPORTS
AFTERNOON SPORTS CLUB
What Obama almost wore for All-Star Game pitch
ENTERTAINMENT
Lollapalooza looks lean in key spots
LIFESTYLES
Breast-feeding doll stirs debate